HERE'S the POINT

By SPENCE HELD

I was disappointed that the new central library, dedicated Sunday, didn't have a special crypt where some really impressive samples of our culture could have been embalmed for the edification of future generations.

Yeah, I'm aware that they placed current newspapers, etc., in what were variously reported as "stone boxes" and "sealed copper containers."

But I'd like to have seen the massive structure equipped with a crypt to accommodate the following exhibits:

1—Father Horton's whiskers. (He's the guy who laid out the town, in case you're a Johnny-Come-Lately.)

2—Mounted specimens of the pony-tail hairdo and the duck-tail haircut.

3—Stacks of current "comic" books—the horror and crime kind.

4—A big frog in a small puddle.

5—A small frog in a big puddle.

(Frogs, you know, live in cornerstones for hundreds of years in a state of suspended animation, according to our folklore.)

6—Photo of vast pile of kelp, complete with bathing beauties, at Ocean Beach.

7—Transcript of debate between J. Phillpot Hogwash and Benjamin Bilgewater on fluoridation.

8—Complete recording of the Army-McCarthy hearings.

9—Album of hit tunes, including "Hadacol."

10—Unexpurgated history of Porfirio Rubirosa and Zsa Zsa Gabor.

Well, after the mayor had crept into the crypt, deposited the above exhibits and crept out again, it would have been sealed with cement and inscribed with these words:

"Do Not Open Before Christmas, 100 H.B."

(100 years after Hydrogen Bomb.)

One of these days I'm going to prowl around the new library and see if they've got any new books.

When I was a sprout I was employed for a time as a "page" in the old library at 20 cents an hour. They put me on the third floor where I was supposed to ride herd on the foreign books—French, German, Scandihoovian, Rooshian, etc.

I couldn't make much sense out of the titles, and the esoteric numbering system was too much for my limited intelligence. I arranged 'em on the shelves, though. My system was to stack the motheaten old volumes by countries—throwing all the German books together, for instance—insofar as I could identify the gibberish.

Sometimes I've wondered if they ever got the mess untangled. Probably they had to build a new library to do it.

Private Rites For A. G. Bruce

Private funeral services were conducted last week for Andrew Gonder Bruce, 82, 4930 W. Pt. Loma Blvd. who died in a local hospital on June 22nd. He was a retired auctioneer and came to San Diego area in 1887. His birthplace was Cumberland, Maryland.

Mr. Bruce lived to see several of his predictions come true. He foresaw the great growth of San Diego for when San Diego was a sleepy little town, as he stood one day on a hill in Roseville, now universally known as Point Loma, he told friends of the many yachts that someday would ride at anchor in the harbor.

Survivors are his wife, Natilie Bruce, two sons, Henry F. and Robert M.; a sister, Kathryn Bruce; brothers, Dan, Will, Wenner, Alfred, James and Tom and four grandchildren.

KIDDIES SAD OVER LOSS OF WAGON

If anyone has seen a new Radio Flyer wagon in the vicinity of 5022 Santa Monica avenue, there are two kiddies who would be most happy to have it returned to their home. The youngsters were playing with their new wagon last week and were called home, leaving their wagon behind. When they returned the wagon was gone and the hopes and dreams of the kiddies sank to an all time low. The two children who want their wagon returned are Bruce and Ella Hobson of the Santa Monica address.

OUTBOARD RACE IS ROUGH ON MEN AND BOATS

Drivers and boats took a beating from the waves Sunday in the first annual rough water handicap race held by the Outboard Boating Club of San Diego.

"It was rough, all right," said F. A. Wolf of Ocean Beach, club commodore. "We spent more time going up and down than going ahead. If anybody wants to buy a boat cheap, see our members. Our boats really took a beating."

C. T. Fleischer finished first, making the round trip from Shelter Island to La Jolla in two hours, 52 minutes. Art Sansome was second and Ivan Putman third.

Harold Depew, of 642 Savoy St., won the club's perpetual trophy for the fastest elapsed time. He covered the course in one hour, 59 minutes.

Other trophies were won by Bruce Van Horn, Guy Stamper, George Stacey and Drew Allen.

SEWER BOND FIGHT STILL ON

OCEAN BEACH—"Mike" McBride stands atop a huge mass of kelp on the beach south of Newport Ave., while Karen May indicates it doesn't smell like new-mown hay . . . The Ocean Beach Chamber of Commerce sent a letter to the City Council Monday stating that the beach "has been allowed to become cluttered with debris and kelp to the extent that it tends to drive tourists from this area. It is requested that efforts be made to clean the beach below the mean high tide line lying between Niagara and Cape May Avenues." The Chamber pointed out that the local ocean front area "is the closest to the center of population of San Diego but has been sadly neglected."—Michael Maconnell photo.

Local Research Group Demands 'Fair Deal'

With a San Diego citizens committee to be appointed to study the sewage situation, Tom Drake, chairman of the local Sewer Bond Research Committee, said yesterday that this group "will go along with anything fair and aboveboard."

Drake said the local group would not go along with "any 'stacked' committee or a foregone conclusion."

He attended a meeting in the mayor's office at Civic Center Tuesday, when opponents and proponents of the recently defeated 16-million-dollar sewer bond issue discussed the possibility of another sewer bond issue being submitted to the voters next spring.

Mayor Butler was quoted yesterday as saying he would appoint a citizens committee to study a new sewer bond proposal.

Drake said he understood such a committee would be named by the City Council, according to a motion made by Councilman Burgener and passed at Tuesday's meeting.

"I presume," said Drake, "that we will be given the privilege of naming our members for such a committee. My idea is that it should be composed of exactly equal representation from each side."

Drake reported that Tuesday's meeting opened with the city manager harking back to the arguments in favor of the defeated bond issue. "Douglas R. Giddings, one of our attorneys, objected," he said. "Then the mayor called on several people to speak. Giddings asked that our side be heard. He said the present sewer system could be used and that a five or six-million-dollar bond issue was economically feasible and sufficient for the next 15 or 20 years.

"Leon Scales, our other attorney, spoke along the same lines. Councilman Godfrey said it wasn't the cost that defeated the bond issue, it was the Point Loma location for the sewage plant. That's only half true, however."

C. L. Dorman, a proponent, said the city lacked vision and is always doing things patchwork. "For once in our lives, let's look ahead," he said.

O. W. Cotton, an opponent, pointed out that one of the things that defeated the recent sewer bond issue was the fear of beach pollution.

Drake said Cotton also pointed out that before the present sewage plant was opened, assurance was given there would be no odor. "But there has been an odor ever since the plant was opened," he was quoted as saying.

The local Sewer Bond Research Committee is adopting a policy of "watchful waiting," Drake said yesterday.

Tuna May Chase Yellowtail Out Of Derby

With tuna—bluefins and longfins—fast becoming a threat to chase yellowtail to the back rows of importance in the $25,000 San Diego Yellowtail Derby in the current third qualifying period, deep sea anglers smacked their lips in anticipation of some red-hot angling days soon to come.

Early in the week, the albacore had appeared 30 to 60 miles to the southwest but were being taken in scattered schools. It seemed only a matter of time before they would move up to where they could be worked by local sportfishing boats.

At the same time, bluefins were being taken in some quantity by net boats but only five had been caught at the Islands by sportsmen. However, the first taken on rod and reel a year ago came to gaff on July 7 and the big run began 11 days later.

Yellowtail prospects also were brighter, as adverse currents which had tapered off the catche at the Islands were fast swinging back to normal and improvement was expected as soon as the change became complete.

In spite of a yellowtail slowdown at the Islands, the second period fishoff in the Yellowtail Derby went off smoothly, and Lee Wong, of Los Angeles, was the winner with an 18-10. Runner-up was Jerry Freeman, of Bell, with a 17-6.

Top yellow of the week was a 25-13 caught by Larry Banuelos, of L.A., and runner-up was an Ocean Beach angler, R. L. Slaughter, 4620 Pt. Loma Ave., who caught a 23-14 bluefin. Albert R. Byrd, 4451 Saratoga, also finished high on the weekly list with a 21-2.

Sport Car Races Set Saturday And Sunday

Sponsored by the San Diego Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Torrey Pines Sports Car Races July 3-4 will attract over 230 cars and drivers, the largest field in American sports car history. A crowd of better than 25,000 is expected each day, according to Remy Jackson, project chairman for the Junior Chamber. Plenty of parking is available.

Leading Far West sports car drivers will be on hand for the two days of competition. They include Phil Hill of Los Angeles, who has won two of the three previous Torrey Pines races; Sterling Edwards and Al Coppel of San Francisco; Bill Stroppe of Long Beach; Bill Pollack, Chuck Daigh, Ed Kretz and John von Neumann from the Los Angeles area, and Bumpy Bell from Tucson, Ariz.

The two days of racing will start Saturday noon, July 3 with a 6-lap go for stock MG's, novice drivers at the wheel. The remainder of the day's program will include six-lap races for stocks over and under 1500 cc., a stock MG event, two six-lappers for over 1500 c.c. modified and two for those under 1500 cc., modified.

A six-lap ladies event is set for mid-afternoon Saturday along with a 10-lap motorcycle race. Another 10-lap motorcycle test is set Sunday. Sunday's program will feature a 30-lap main event. This will be preceded by challenge and consolation races for stocks and modified over and under 1500 cc. Seven races are billed Sunday and nine Saturday.

Admission to the races is $1.50 each day. The Torrey Pines course is located 12 miles from downtown San Diego, off Highway 101 between Del Mar and La Jolla. Race headquarters is Hotel Del Charro in La Jolla. Miss Sandra Frickert, 18, of La Jolla, will reign over the two-day race program as "Miss Torrey Pines of 1954." Working with the Junior Chamber of Commerce on race plans are the California Sports Car Club of Los Angeles and the Southern California Sports Car Club.

Warnings Issued For 4th Of July Weekend Traveling

Warnings were posted today from San Ysidro to Oceanside and from San Diego to Jacumba by the San Diego County Traffic Safety Council in preparation for another long week-end when San Diego County highways are expected to carry a record load of travelers.

"With even normal highway traffic up over last year, the number of automobiles expected on the highways over the July 4 week-end will equal or exceed that experienced over Memorial Day," Fred Rohr, Traffic Safety Council president, said. "Again enforcement departments will have maximum forces working to control the movement of traffic but the prime responsibility rests with each individual driver," he added.

The traffic fatality toll for San Diego County so far in 1954 moved within five of the 1953 figure fo rthe same period with the tragic death of a mother and two children in a train-automobile accident at Solana Beach.

Sixty-eight persons have been killed this year up to June 25 as against 73 for 1953. Forty-six of the 68 were from the rural highway areas of the County, six more than in the previous year

Four Local Boys Going To Ranch In New Mexico

Four Explorer Scouts from Troop 223 will leave for New Mexico late in July. They are Mike Hall, Bob Meler, James Stuart and Leandro Correia.

Plans for the trip were started when the Point Loma Kiwanis Club, sponsor of the troop, learned of a 36-day junior leader training program held each summer at the Philmont Scout Ranch near Cimmaron, New Mexico.

Only two other boys from San Diego County will attend the camp, according to Bill Kearns, Kiwanis president, and Harold Witchey, the club's representative for the troop.

Three Boys Are Saved From Surf At Cliffs

Three boys were rescued from the ocean at Sunset Cliffs Friday afternoon through the combined efforts of the Coast Guard and police.

Crowds of onlookers lined the cliffs to watch the latest in a series of near-drownings, drownings, falls and other mishaps in the area.

It began when Johnny Bennett, 14, of 4536 Monaco St., was riding the waves on a surf mat near Cordova and Sunset Cliffs Blvd. Getting beyond his depth he became panicky and tried to reach shore.

His plight was seen by Richard La Gerrette, 14, of 817 Sunset Cliffs Blvd., and George Halowell, 15, of 837 Sunset Cliffs Blvd.

Using their inflated boat, they went to his aid and helped lifeguards rescue him. But after Johnny had been taken home, the two boys found themselves in difficulty. A Coast Guardsman swam out to their boat, tied on a rope, and brought them ashore.

George and Richard were complimented by lifeguards for helping the other boy.

WELCOME WAGON

Do You Know . . .
of anyone intending to establish a permanent residence in this community? If so, call AC 3-1888 and a Welcome Wagon Hostess will bring greetings, information, and a basket filled with gifts and goodwill.

"I'm on my way to your house!"

"Today is the day that I will start collecting for the Peninsula News. I won't have time to see all of my customers in one day . . . but I will see you as soon as possible. It will help me a lot if you will make certain that you are paying a Peninsula News delivery boy and not a representative from some other newspaper. Be sure to ask for a Peninsula News receipt. Only boys authorized to collect for the "NEWS" will have them. Prompt payment of 25c for 4 issues of the "NEWS" will be collected from each subscriber. Your cooperation will be appreciated. We are instructed to give every customer the very best service possible. If for any reason you are not satisfied with the delivery service you are now getting, please tell your carrier, or notify the Peninsula News Circulation Dept. by calling AC-3-3156.

THANK YOU.

DANCE RECITAL participants included Joyce Zender, Billie Jean Wright, Barbara Bettis, Claudia Scott and Penny Pearse. These young ladies took part in the presentation at Dana Jr. High sponsored by the Bruce Hall School.

Bruce Hall Dancers Present Recital

A recital was presented recently in Dana Jr. High Auditorium by the dance classes from Bruce Hall, under the direction of Catherine Ada is. Parents and friends enjoyed a varied program of tap, acrobatic, ballet and Hawaiian dncing presented by the followig local children; Kathleen Clapp, Linda Isaac, Susan Abbott, Betty Sheldon, Jeannie Martin, Linda Combest, Judy Dribble, Dannie Sue Daniel, Becky Diane Adams, Marcia Stein, Donna Halstead, Susan Green, Joanne Franchino, Barbara Bettis, Carol Heynen, Joyce Zender, Lenny Jo Green, Billie Jean Wright, Claudia Scott, Penny Pearse, Alene Black, Karen Steelman, Sandra Fischer, Janet Ostosh, Carolyn Blair, Martha Wells, Janice Sharp, Elaine Knox, Elizabeth Franchino, Mary Beckman, Anita Kiraly, Judy Sheldon, Suzanne Sires, Susan Cram, Carolyn Hamilton, and Janice Booth. Tiny tots performing for their first time were: Beth Reid, Donna Kowase, Gloria Meinert, Harriet Stevens, Mark Leaf, Janice Benhoff, Kathy Coverly, Jimmy Little, Adrian Keeth, Wariely Berry, Linda Brosio, Patty ren Gross, Debra Walker, Dan-Lu Giddings, Annie Colt, Dorothea Camus and July Holloway.

Guest students from the Bea Johnson Studio, were enthusiastically received. Little Betty Laney executed complicated acrobatic tricks with ease; Darlene Witherow, TV performer and Exchange Club contest winner, did a difficult novelty acrobatic dance on a drum, bringing her well earned applause. Miss Johnson's teacher of Hawaiian dancing, Claire Keahi Thompson, brought a group of very talented dancers who added an authentic and exotic tropical touch to a pleasant evening.

To add a classical trend, Mrs. Vera Melhorn of 3804 Bernice Dr., presented her charming voice student, Lois Foster, a promising young artist.

Mrs. Adams, member of the Associated Dance Teachers of So. Calif., Affiliated Club No. 1 of Dance Masters of American, is now associated with Dorothy Halsted in a new studio in Ocean Beach.

Girl Scout Troop 172 Representatives Visit Marine Depot

Six members of Pt. Loma's Girl Scout Troop No. 172 and their guests witnessed an exhibit of trick drill tactics here at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot.

The demonstration was given by a platoon of the Depot's Women Marine Company under the leadership of Cpl. Iris Menard, a co-leader of the scout troop.

Upon professing a desire to witness an exhibition of trick drill, Cpl. Menard with the cooperation of 2nd Lt. Marguerite Russell, executive officer of the Women Marine Company, arranged to have the platoon give the demonstration on the Depot's parade field. The corporal called the commands for the women Marines.

The scouts were accompanied by Senior Troop Leader Mrs. Morris Dudley, co-leader Mrs. George Peterson and troop committee member Mrs. Vernon Sherwin, all of Pt. Loma.

At the close of the drill exhibition, the Girl Scout First Class Award was presented by the troop leader to Bonnie Lee Armstrong, 12, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Jack Armstrong of Pt. Loma.

The scouts present for the drill exhibition were Pamela Peterson, Charlene Gianetto, Betty Sherwin, Bonnie Lee Armstrong, Pat Colonell and Cherryl Dudley, all of Pt. Loma.

Guests of the scouts were Emily Freedman, Joan Korstad and Peggy Smith, all of Pt. Loma, and Judy Hannah of Denver, Colo.

The floriculture show at the Southern California Exposition and San Diego County Fair in Del Mar, June 25 to July 5, is one of the largest on the west coast.
